Haider Ackermann

Chances are you've already admired Haider Ackermann's avant garde designs as the Colombian's friend and frequent collaborator actress Tilda Swinton is usually wearing him on the red carpet. Industry insiders also turn to the talented draper and renowned colour master for wear-forever trousers, androgynous tailoring and striking, sensual silhouettes conjured from breathtaking fabrics.

Y Project

Part of Paris's exciting new guard and the brains behind Rihanna's Anti World tour costumes, Glenn Martens ensures his experimental creations reflect the diversity of modern society with menswear and womenswear elements. Focused on form, pieces like the signature souped-up sweatshirt tend to have a streetwise slant and inventive details that make them adjustable.
