

DRESS YOUR NECK

Right now it's unthinkable to leave home without being swaddled in a blanket-sized scarf but the new season trends are seriously testing our resolve. Some of these novel necklines and accessories require more inches of neck on show than others so we've had to think outside the box to wear them now. Experiment with us.

NECKLINES

The highest hit just under the chin with a flourish- Macgraw and Saks Potts have great options, then buttoned shirt collars come into view courtesy of Victoria Beckham, 3.1 Phillip Lim and many more. If you go lower, layer a higher neck underneath.

COLLARS

A detachable collar will work wonders on crew-neck or collarless pieces, especially if they're as decorative as Shrimps and Vivetta make theirs. The former top their signature faux fur with crystal embellishment while the latter feature surreal hands and whimsical motifs.

NECKLACES

Diana Broussard and Gabriele Frantzen offer chunky chokers which provide the most coverage in this category. But skinnier styles can be arranged under collars and over necklines to add sparkle and personality. Come evening- you'll have to show them off inside.

SCARVES

We get it: you're not prepared to part with your scarf just yet but can we tempt you to a more jovial one? Janavi and Rockins pepper theirs with punchy prints and embroidery, and Isabel Marant Étoile blends wool and cashmere for unbeatable warmth.
