THE MAKING OF THE MULE

34px

Don't call it a comeback, it's a takeover. Mules and slides are now the go-to strapless styles to flaunt feet and statement socks all year around. However there is a difference between the two: just backless they're mules, but if toes are freed too then they become slides. Heel height is irrelevant and this season sees inspired prints, brilliant adornments and lust-worthy new textures take centre stage. Here are the highlights.
