The power of the pompom shouldn't be underestimated, especially as these colourful balls of fun are still popping up everywhere. Besides the fact that the materials used to make them have never been finer, the sense of humour pompoms project is infectious. Tassels may have longer strands but the textured effect is just as joyful, which makes adopting both adornments, on your accessories at the verv least. a no-brainer. We've zoomed in on a few of our favourites below.

Neoprene Pom Pom Sneakers

Minna Parikka

Think of Minna Parikka's pompoms as bunny tails because the ears also embellish her footwear. As a result, these slip-on sneakers are much more light-hearted than the monochrome palette would suggest.
